Worth Fighting For

SHALL this little girl grow up in the sort of American home we know, healthy and happy? Shall she have the advantage of living and learning in a free land, under free institutions? Shall such children develop into the Liberty-loving citizens that a free America may be proud of?

For over two hundred years Americans have fought valiantly, and died gallantly, to win for themselves and hand down to their posterity the blessings of liberty, justice, self-government and equal opportunity. This precious heritage, bought at so great a price, is now threatened.

The question which today confronts America as a nation, and you as an individual, is whether or not a free America is worth fighting for

Are American children in this and all future generations to receive unimpaired the legacy of freedom of which we are now the custodians, or shall their country be turned over bodily to the brutal, rapacious, power-mad enemy which has forced us into this war?

This question cannot be answered by word of mouth, but by deeds alone.

Some Essentials to Profitable Pork Production.

(Contributed)

In order to make the maximum profits in the growing of hogs there are 10 fundamental points that must be observed. They are as follows:

1st. One must have good hogs, either high grades or pure breds. Scrubs cannot pay, no matter what kind of treatment is given them.

2nd. Permanent pastures. Hogs are naturally grazing animals and no other kinds of live stock respond more to good pasture than they do. Bermuda grass, lespedeza, white clover and bur clover make an excellent combination for a permanent pasture.

3rd. Temporary grazing crops. For fall winter and early spring grazing, nothing beats rape, rye, oats and vetch together and bur clover. For summer and fall, cowpeas, soy beans, peanuts, velvet beans, chufas, etc., cannot be surpassed.

4th. In order to graze these crops there must be plenty of fencing on the farm. Fencing is high, but 100 pounds of pork will pay for more wire now than it would two years ago.

5th. Hogs while running on pasture or grazing crops should be fed a part ration of concentrated feeds, 1-2 ration, (2 lbs. per 100 lbs live weight of hogs per day of either of the following is excellent:

Corn 9 parts, tankage 1 part, by weight; corn 10 parts, mill feed or ship stuff 4 parts, tankage 1 part; corn 5 parts, soy bean meal 1 part.)

6th. To keep hogs healthy and free from worms they should have free access to the following mineral mixture: Charcoal 1 bu. hard wood ashes, 1 bu., common salt, 8 lbs., air slacked lime, 8 lbs., sulphur 4 lbs., pulverized copperas, 4 lbs.

7th. Hogs must have plenty of pure water. A spring is ideal. A stagnant pool is abominable.

8th. Proper housing is essential. In cold weather hogs require dry warm beds. In hot weather they need cool shady places to resort to.

9th. Save hogs from disease. Don't fool with highly advertised patent remedies to save hogs from cholera. Use the only universally recognized and accepted hog cholera prevention, the serum simultaneous vaccination. This prevents cholera, but does not always cure it.

10th. Keep hogs free from lice. Use crude oil, fuel oil, coal tar dips, etc.

Don't blame the hogs for any disappointment until you have looked after all these important points.

Inquiries pertaining to any of these or other points on hog raising will be cheerfully answered if directed to the Animal Industry Division, Agricultural Experiment Station, West Raleigh, N. C.
